“ Marge had the most beautiful garden in Kingsford Heights. Living across the street from Marge I was very fortunate to see that garden out my front door for close to 20 years prior to her moving. I can still picture her out there with her wide-brimmed hat tending her flowers and veggies, and on occasion sketching her gorgeous and beloved gladiolas. One afternoon I was in my yard planting some peonies and Marge came over to make sure they went in the ground the right way -- and I'll continue to think of her every spring as they continue to bloom.

“ Dear Dianne, Dave and Family,

We were blessed to get to know Marge better over the last years of her life by facilitating her attendance in church and choir practice, as well as helping out a bit with things she needed in her apartment. She was an integral part of our life during those years, even though I had known her from childhood.

She contributed much to the church and community through her participation in various activities.

We have missed being able to see her during this last year, but kept her in our thoughts and prayers.

Know that you will also be in our thoughts and prayers as you adjust to Marge's passing. Remember that she is in a much better place and resting in the arms of her Lord, free from the discomforts she endured over these last years.

“ Marge and my Mom both became widows at a young age. They became great friends and enjoyed Friday night dinners together at the Chippewa Club and, of course, they were both die hard Packer fans. They were good for each other and I know they each made the other's life better. RIP Marge - you made our world a better place.
