“Bridgee was a very special and dear friend to me. For many years we exchanged Christmas gifts. The year before she moved she gave me one of the most treasured gifts I have ever received; it was a beautiful, small tin box that had "Prayer Box" painted on the top. When you opened it up there was a small pad of paper and pencil. She told me that each night in her prayers she would ask God to grant any prayer request that I would put in that box. It sits on my bedside table and I used it many times; I am sure she kept her promise. As it happens in life sometimes, even though it still sits on my nightstand I forgot to use it for many years, but for some reason known only to God the night before she died it caught my eye. I opened it up and thought of what a beautiful gift she had given me, I wrote a note for prayers for Bridgee. I have complete faith that the Blessed Trinity who she loved so much sent the Holy Spirit to remind me to pray for her. This treasured gift will always hold a very special place in my heart and on my nightstand. Love you Bridgee Girl
