“ In 1987, when I was a new hire at the Counseling Center, new worker orientation included a powerful session with Carolyn. She was heartfelt in helping new workers appreciate what the "old days before deinstitutionalization" were like for people with disabilities so that we could better appreciate quality, community living and the value of the community living that we would be helping to provide for people. So, in addition to doing the work of making community care actually work for folks with developmental disabilities, she helped to light a fire in others so as to encourage them to do likewise. I did not know her well, but she left a beautiful, lasting memory with me and many others I am sure. My sympathy to the family of Carolyn Anderson

“ My deepest sympathy to Carolyn's family. I worked with Carolyn for several years and always enjoyed her company. My mother worked in her group home for many years also and loved her job. Carolyn was smart, kind, fun, and a great all around person. She will be missed by many. Blessed be to the family and friends of this dear woman.
