“ Todd, Annie and family; I know no words can be said, But know that there are others out there that are praying for you and praying God's presence to be felt, He is the only one who can give you comfort and peace. I have heard there will be good days and bad days a head, and IF you ever need an ear we are just down the road, or on your way home just stop in you are always welcomed to stop. I have read and experience with my dad's death, keep in mind as you move through this painful time of loss that there are different ways to grieve . Of course there is no simple recipe for dealing with grief. Loss is so unique and only you will know how you need to heal. Pay close attention to how this loss is impacting you and what you might learn from this experience. God won't allow this tragedy to be without valuable lessons for you and those who love and care about you.

someone told me to “Grieve well,” my friend said. “This is a time to simply be with your grief, and if you grieve well, you'll come out the other side stronger than ever.” God is there to help you along the way. much love Bill and Teresa Broullire

“ I Car your heart with me (I carry it in my heart) I am never without it (anywhere I go you go, my dear; and whatever is done by only me is your doing, my darling) I fear no fate (for you are my fate, my sweet) I want No world (for beautiful you are my world, my true) and its You are, whatever a moon has always meant and whatever a son will always sing is you. Here is the deepest secrets nobody knows here is the root of the root and the bud of the bud and the sky of the sky of a tree called life; which grows higher than the soul can hope are mind can hide) and this is The Wonder that's keeping the stars apart I carry your heart (I carry it in my heart)

“ I remember when Haley was pregnant with Preston and she was so miserably huge :) she was very comical about it though and kept humor throughout her pregnancy. She was so beautiful. I will miss her and I am glad to have had the pleasure of knowing her. May god be with her family and friends through this hard time.

“ Haley was one of the first to learn pole vaulting. We attended a camp near Chicago, and she was, per her usual self, fearless. I know she endured trials and triumphs. We recently caught up on Facebook and laughed about that camp and being a parent. Sorry to hear you've passed on. My condolences to your family.
