“ Prayers to his Entire Family, we as kids camped regularly with the Keglers in our Layton trailers. He was a good friend of my father Mitchell Burgess when we lived in Carpentersville. He would drive his squad car to our house and all the neighbor kids thought there was something wrong until they found out that he was a friend stopping by. Rest In Peace

“ My memories of Harold are that of a man who served the Lord in various ways. He was a faithful husband who cared for his diabetic wife by driving her to Green Bay often when there was no treatment locally. They both liked being a part of the Holy Comforters at First Lutheran. He brought her regularly, in her wheelchair, to be with the other quilters and do her part. When he couldn't be at the church he did his own sewing at home. He had respect for the Quilting boss , my Mom, even though under his breath he may not have always agreed with her instructions. :) I can see him driving to get banana boxes to pack the hundreds of quilts in for Lutheran World Relief. He then piled the boxes high ready for the semi to deliver the boxes to Minneapolis for sanitation before shipment all over the world wherever they were needed. My sympathy and prayers for his family and to all those who helped him so often in these later years when unable to go to church. Harold is at peace and in a place of love already prepared for him.
