James Johnson

IRON MOUNTAIN - James M. Johnson, 48, of 521 Lyman St., Kingsford, died Thursday, Oct. 24, 2002, at his home.

He was born Aug. 27, 1954, in Burlington, Wis., the son of Ronald and Barbara (DuFresne) Johnson.

Jim was raised in this area and attended Iron Mountain High School. He spent from 1984 until April of this year in the Chicago area where he worked in the restaurant business, and most recently, in the home refinance field.

Jim enjoyed hunting, fishing, camping and was a gourmet cook. He loved spending time with his children and grandchildren.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Jessica Johnson in 1977.

He is survived by his son, James (Angela) Johnson of Kingsford; two daughters, Heather (Todd) Schoen of Kingsford and Amanda Johnson of Chicago; his father, Ronald (Lola) Johnson of Kingsford and his mother, Barbara (Lloyd) Tharp of Stephenson; brothers and sisters, Gene (Julie) Johnson of Stephenson, Cindy (Charles) Johnson of Norwich, Conn., Richard (Debbie) Goodreau of Norway, Daniel (Sue) Johnson of Iron Mountain, Darryl (Jen) Johnson of Iron Mountain and Douglas (Kris) Johnson of Kingsford; three grandchildren, Emily and Olivia Johnson and Lucus Schoen; many aunts, uncles, nieces and cousins.

Visitation will be from 11 a.m. to noon Tuesday at the Erickson-Rochon & Nash Funeral Home. Pastor Lori Liverance will officiate.

Memorial services will be at noon Tuesday.

Burial will be in Cemetery Park in Iron Mountain.

A memorial will be established in his memory.

The family has entrusted the Erickson-Rochon & Nash Funeral Home of Iron Mountain with the funeral arrangements.
