“ I met Jon back in '08 through CCI. He was always so willing to help out others when they had questions about coax design. He was certainly a workaholic and took great pride in anything he did. Eventually, we both switched from the day shift over to nights and he always kept the night interesting with the random chats as we all worked. ”

Word of his passing certainly came as a shocker to me, as he was way too young.

Ashley & the rest if Jon's family, you all have my condolences at this difficult time.
