“ Joe, as I sit here on the computer and listen to your Brother Russ talk to your brother Terry, I sit in awe, listening to the best stories of all of the things that you brothers did together. The fishing stories, the hunting stories, the everything stories that you brothers did together. I can feel the love that you had for one another. About that fishing trip that you guys had planned to go to Canada, Joe, you will be there in spirit. I know it.

“ Joe, we love you and miss you greatly, although we mourn your loss we also celebrate your new life with our king , Jesus. You traded in your damaged earthly tent for a new resurrected body and a mansion in the great city on the hill, where there is no pain,sorrow, or regrets. Joe it was our honor to be with you in your final days here. you demonstrated great courage and never gave up hope.we prayed for a healing of your body but the lord did a much greater miracle in the healing of your soul and his promise for you of eternal life. Joe you were one of the most giving/thoughtful people i've ever met by the way you reached out to your family and friends, Always checking in on us and always providing an uplifting story from our past or a timely joke to lift us up. Also its a great testimony of your character by the quality of friends, and the beautiful spirit in your daughter Maddy that you helped create and nurture. So Joe, farewell my best friend , we will see you in just a little while, and thanks for living out those words in the Bible " Oh death where is your sting". And Joe forgive me for not taking some of your late night calls. What I wouldn't give for one more.

“ It seems like just a few years ago that we remember Joe in our little neighborhood on Harvard Street, in Butte, Montana, which was a dead end street blocked off by the Crest Nursing Home. How those residents must of enjoyed watching Joe and the rest of our little angels (hooligans?) playing in the street, with the older ones watching out for the little ones and teaching them baseball and whatever else young minds can dream of. Joe had his brothers, Dave, Rusty, Terry, Bob, and sister Laurie. Even though Laurie was the cutest little blond girl, there was no mistake she was super athletic, the best baseball player, and could clean Joe's clock! Joe's mother, Joani, took care of our son, Steve, before he went to school, and also my daughter Kathy, who joined her brother after school. So there were always a ton of kids at the Mitchell's! Joe grew up not only with his brothers & sister, but the four Holter children--Vicky, Tom, Bill & C.D., then let's add the other neighborhood girls--- Tracy Porter, Margaret King, and Rea Williams who was a little older and kept an eye out for the others. (please forgive me for misspelling names). Love to you Joani and your beautiful family. Even if Joe was here for such a short 48 years, he has made a wonderful difference in many lives. Maybe someday we will have the privilege of meeting his daughter.

“ I graduated high school with Joe. We lived in the same house (3000 Harvard in Butte) before the Mitchells. Although our paths separated and my contact with Joe is limited to high school and college days, I remember him then as full of life and filled with adventure and good humor. My deepest condolences to all of the family. This is a difficult loss. You are all in my prayer.
