

Judith Cowie

August 30, 1918 - August 30, 2011

Judith S. Cowie, 93, of Kingsford, formerly of Niagara and Iron Mountain, died Tuesday, Aug. 30, 2011, at Freeman Nursing and Rehabilitation Community in Kingsford.

Judy was born April 19, 1918, in Metropolitan, daughter of the late Erick and Katherine (Newman) Winquist.

She married John B. Cowie and he preceded her in death in 1961.

Judy was a lifelong resident of the area who loved nature, being outdoors, and walking. She also enjoyed needlework, especially crocheting. Judy loved spending time with her big family and will be missed dearly by them all.

Judy did not have children but she was like a second mother to her nieces, Gloria (Norman) Sjoquist of Kingsford, Sheila (William) Burby of Kingsford, and Sally (Alan) Peterson of Marinette, Wis. She is also survived by two nephews, Allen (Linda) McMahan of Kingsford and Charles (Joellen) Peruchini of Los Angeles, whose letters she loved to read. She enjoyed seeing and spoiling her many great-nieces and great-nephews, including locally, Jeff (Nanette) Sjoquist, Jamie (Donna) Sjoquist, Julie (Gary) Miller, Eric Taylor, Troy (Vanessa) Taylor, Katie (Cole) Faucett, Melissa (Tim) Jagelski, Andy (Stephanie) Peterson, April Peterson, Kerry McMahan and Mike (Christine) McMahon. Her great-great nieces and great-great nephews that were also very special to her include Brad, Danny, Jacob, Ali, Kennedy, Evan, Grace, Gavin, David, Logan and several others.

She was preceded in death by three sisters, Arlene McMahon, Hilda Peruchini and Ruth Akerberg and one brother, Iver Winquist.

Private family services are being held.

Burial will be in the Niagara Cemetery.
