“ While visiting Lynn, I often enjoyed a nice chat with Ken and Sharon. My favorite memory is the time I brought my accordion along and played a few polkas for them. Seeing the big smile on his face and watching his eyes light up was a true gift from him. I'm terribly sorry for not only this loss but the illnesses he suffered. My sympathy to all.

We never had the privilege of meeting Ken but we came to know him through Lynn sharing stories about him! He seemed to be a robust man who enjoyed life. It is terrible what illness & old age does to us
