“ In my early years with Social Security Lenore was a huge influence on me and inspired me to move on in my career. She was an unusually talented person in that she could talk about the most serious of matters with great understanding and intellect---and still find a way to inject humor into it. She reminded us all of our humanity. I also loved her voice---it had warmth and resonance. Thank you, Lenore.

“ To Bill and Family: I am retired but had the privilege of working with Lenore on disability issues for the last few years of my career. I cannot think of anyone with more knowledge, dedication and sincere concern for the disability program and its beneficiaries. She demonstrated the best in what it means to be a career civil servant and was recognized nationally for her knowledge skills and ability but more importantly for her friendship. She will be missed by all of you as well as many SSA/DDS folks. With sincere sympathy, Sue Davis

“ During my career with the Wisconsin DDS I had the privilege on several occasions to meet with and spend time with Lenore. A more dedicated and sincere public employee would be difficult to find. More importantly, though, Lenore was such a kind, gracious and warm human being that I so looked forward to events when I would be able to see her again. I'll never forget the look on her face during one such trip when I gave her a Brett Favre beanie-baby as a gift from one Packer diehard to another. You would have sworn I gave her a million dollars from her reaction. My sincerest condolences to her family and friends -- it was a privilege to know her.

“ Lenore was a dedicated, caring and hardworking government employee. I have known and worked with her for many years. She was always professional and had time to discuss issues I may have had. I have always admired her knowledge about almost any subject about the DDS and, that at her senior executive level, she could converse about the budget or workloads or know about so many people across the country. She seemed to truly love what she did. She will be missed but remembered always as the face of the DDS'. My deepest sympathy to the family.
