“ Linda has written a lot of stories about hospice for us over the years. She was always helpful and interested in what we were doing. She was just the nicest person, I am shocked and so saddened for her family who have lost a mother, sister, wife, and friend and the staff at Daily news who have also lost a friend and talented writer. Rest in Peace Linda. Ilene Kotajarvi, OSF Hospice

“ My prayers and deep sympathy to Linda's family and the staff of the Iron Mtn Daily News where she worked. She leaves a hole in this community that will be hard to fill. Her writings, kindness and caring and friendliness will be missed by all of us who were privileged to know Linda. She spoke so lovingly and with pride about her sons, and her husband even though I had never met them, but did read about her sons in the Daily News. Keeping all of you in prayer. Orice Walters

“ I was truly saddened to learn of Linda's passing. While I had not spoken with her in many years, simply seeing her picture reminded me of the spirit and enthusiasm she infused into wherever she was. We worked together at the North Wind at NMU and she was someone whose sense of humor, work ethic and genuine sense of caring carried the day. My deepest condolences to Pat and their children, as well as Linda's extended family, including those at the Daily News.

“ Linda was a childhood friend. We attended All Saints School and eventually graduated together. My memories of her were of a kind, thoughtful, faith filled person. A few years back, we were at the same Cursillo at Mary Grove , those same qualities had endured to her adult life. She spoke lovingly of her sons and husband. She was an example and inspiration for a life well lived. Prayers to her family.
