“ Robyn, Scott, Dylan, Tia: It will be the little things that you will remember, the quiet moments, the smiles, the laughter. And although it may seem hard right now, it will be the memories of these little things that help to push away the pain and bring the smiles back again. May Matt's love and strength carry you through the days, years to come.

“ To the family of Matt-

My thoughts have been with you constantly. Matt was a great friend with a heart of gold.. He had wonderful words in the right situations. Talent, Kindness, and Warmth radiated from him. I will miss the big, contagious smile he always walked in with and even though my times with him were short- they were more than memorable. I hope you always feel him in your presence because he IS there. You're in my prayers.

“ Today an angel has been taken to find his place beside our Lord. It saddens our hearts to say goodbye.. There has to be an easier word.
We hope to see him in our dreams, where we may laugh and talk for awhile.
And like always, he'll give a grand hug and flash his cherished smile.
Today, Matthew we weep for, because we miss him so dear.
Tomorrow, we'll pray again for healing, and to put rest to our fear.
That there will be light shown upon our angel we miss so dear.
And that his light will guide our vessel onto a path straight and clear.
Towards our Lord's welcoming heart and much needed healing hands.
And then we'll know "Goodbye" only means, "Til we meet again."
Once tomorrow's rains do past..
We shall all meet home at last.
-Matthew Bean, I love and miss you dearly. Your Cousin, Mindi Ann

“ Although I did not know this youngman, I was proud to stand with this youngman and his family. I'm deeply sorry for your loss. Why tragedies like this occur, it is hard to understand the reasons. I can only try to fight against those who try to deepen the wounds. Just an unknown man from a distant area. - Randy
