“Peggy was our neighbor in Quinnesec, Michigan. She was also a 4-H leader for my four daughters. She was generous with her time hosting the children in her home. She was a great cook as well. Everyone enjoyed her bakery. If there was a need, she volunteered her labor. Growing up in our neighborhood was a blessing. It takes a village to raise a child. You could depend on Peggy to be there with arms open ready to contribute her talents to neighborhood children, church, school, and community. She will be missed.

“My deepest sympathies to the whole family. Your mom was a very influential person in my life. One of my biggest memories was teaching me how to knit. I think that day I came to the house a total of 10 times cause I can't quite figure it out. I am sure she chuckled about it. I may have not been good at it but to this day, I guess I am a little crafty. Peggy smile and laugh that I will always remember. I hope you all know she has had her influences with our Bigari's family and you will be in our prayers.

“ Peggy was one year ahead of me in high school I moved to the Iron River entered 11th grade. It was somewhat overwhelming. I felt everyone knew my name the first day. The school counselor told me I was the first new girl in five years. With an overwhelming mix of new faces and names Peggy’s is a face I have always remembered. Whenever we saw each other she gave me a sincere and sweet smile which gave me confidence to find my place in a new school. I see from her obituary that we both met the loves of our lives in high school. I married Ron Pisoni who has fond memories of Both Peggy and her husband. I hope these memories are words of comfort for them for the loss of Peggy.
