“ I was Bob's fraternity brother at Northern Michigan University. In fact he was my little brother. I still have the paddle he made for me. He was a great guy and a brilliant one. I was searching the net to find him when I came across his obituary. I hadn't talked to Bob since the mid 70's. I really felt compelled to find him and to talk over old times. You don't know how much I regret not finding him before his passing. He was a wonderful man and I still get choked up about him being gone. Godspeed Flug.

“ This news is so sad. Both my husband and I met Bob "online" through a grief website after we lost our spouses. Jerry's wife died two days after Gail in 2005, and my husband died in 2006. Bob and Jerry were two of the special people who helped me and so many others who joined the group. Jerry and I met after he left the group and we married in December 2007.

We have several other friends who have been very concerned about not hearing from Bob also. I searched his name and found this sad news. We will miss him very much. He was a wonderful person and had such love for Gail and her family. Blessings to all his family, especially the grandkids that he was so proud of. He will not be forgotten.

“ I, too, met Bob online at a grief website. Bob was a kind, positive person. I'm glad I got to know him before he went to be with Gail again.

“ We got to know Bob when he was married to Gail. They were always so happy together. He meant the world to her, and it meant the world to us that he was there for her, through all of her struggles. They were the happiest couple we knew. He was a wonderful man and kind and generous to all he came in contact with.

“ I had the great pleasure of working with Bob at Nelson Paint. He was a wonderful man, I remember how happy he was to marry Gail and he announced it to I think every one at Nelson. He will be missed that's for sure.

“ We have enjoyed having Bob for a neighbor for the past 14 years, though we never had an opportunity to know him well. Our prayers and thoughts go to his family, as well as Gail's children and grandchildren.
