“ Dear Family and Fiends of Sandy,
My fondest childhood memories are of the countless times Sandy and I played together. Living barely a block apart; her on Meridian Street and me on Park provided daily opportunities to play together. She was my first real friend. Rest in peace, dear Sandy.

“ Nick: So very sorry for your loss. Sandy was a dear. I still remember when, in separate cars, we got blocked by a train from exiting our favorite parking spot at Lake Antoine. You and I started walking towards the engine to ask them to move but, before we got there they did move. Gordy
