“ Thinking of you tonight as I have many times in the past week. Just thought I would say HI! Your smile is greatly missed. Wish I had to opportunity to talk to you more before you left this world. Though I only knew you for a short time, the conversations we shared were meaningful. May peace and comfort still reside in the homes of the one's who love you!

“ I am so so sorry for your loss. Despite how the end was... it wasn't always this way. In love and light... may blessings go out to the friends and family.

Rise again, oh Peacock Angel! Come to fight in the battle that you could not hang onto on earth and be adherent to the Lord your God. My wish is to see you again oh Lovely One. My prayer is that you are where you are supposed to be. Forgiveness here after was too late; sorrow fills my heart, but God fulfills his word and my tongue speaks the words that are never too late. For I was weak in my feelings and did not listen to what the Lord thy God had put into my heart; but hear me now

oh beautiful lady-- I have forgiven thee-- I pray you have forgiven me. Leaving you in God's grace, dear one. May peace be upon you now.

No goodbyes-- only faith.

In the grace of God--

“ I wanted to tell about how she adored her children. She loved being a mother more than anything in the world. She wanted a house filled with babies. She gave her all to her little ones and I'm sure they will have many happy memories with their mommy. Thank you for showing me your beauty. Thank you for loving me. Thanks for inspiring me to pursue a career and go back into college. In your honor I will keep pushing forward even when I would rather lay in bed and be alone. I will do that because I know that's what you would want me to do. I love you. You are still as fabulous as the day we met.

“ To LeeAnn, family, and friends- I can just hope all the wonderful memories may ease some of the pain. I do pray that she is at peace now with no more worries or pain. I was saddened to be out of the area when I heard the news and unable to attend the services. I have many great memories of Shyla over all these years. I am so pleased to see that she had remained so beautiful both inside and out and had touched so many lives. I do know she will be watching from above and so happy that she had touched so many people. My thoughts and prayers are with all of you. God Bless and Sweet Dreams Shyla.

“ You've touched my life in a way you'll never know. I am very grateful to have known you & had you a part of my life for a few years. My favorite memory of you is of you & I driving down to the Riverside Theatre in Milwaukee and Wilma (your Gps) lead is to a dark alley way in the middle of nowhere and we thought we were lost. You have always been a good listener when I needed a friend. You will be forever cherished.

“ Please accept my deepest condolences in the loss of Shyla! I will never forget Shyla's beautiful smiling face. She was a ray of sunshine! I will forever think of her when I see a peacock! The quality that I most admired about Shyla was her positive attitude and her non judgemental attitude. She was truly a kind person. RIP Shyla.

“ Just thinking about the time we were at Doc's and you wanted some "fresh air". I didn't know you very well. I think I had recently just met you. Anyways, we go outside and you climb in a car and sit. I naturally climbed in the opposite side. "Wow. Nice car". And you had reclined the seat and giggled. "it's not mine". I asked..."Well, who's car?" You giggled again. "I have no idea but the seats are sure comfortable!"

“ Angel, Angel, Angel.....

We shared many wonderful, thrilling and crazy times back in the day, didn't we? I have so many memories of you, I don't even know where to begin but.....there is one that I'm certain will bring a smile to your face - you practicing one of your many talents as a hair stylist, a giant bowl of popcorn and Stairway to Heaven on a Friday night in your bathroom. Most likely after jumping out a few windows on Breen Street.

I would like to thank your family, most notably your mom and Tom, for extending their hospitality and welcoming me into their home time and time again.

I would like to thank you, Shyla, for your strength and perseverance to live life the best way you knew how, for being the most selfless person anyone would ever have the honor and privilege of knowing, and for allowing me to be a part of your life.

So, does Dues really exist? I'll expect an answer when we catch up someday. See you on the flip side sweet lady.

We would hang in her driveway and she would tell me about school and how she couldn't wait to be finished so she could get into her chosen field. She was always so positive and had such a positive impact it's hard to comprehend that she's not here any more. I guess heaven needed another angel and it was Shyla's time to return home. You will be missed and loved by many. Goodbye for now my sista from anotha mista till we meet again someday.... LUVE YOU!! PEACE!!*

“ A piece of me you have taken home with you. You've been my best friend for so long and I don't know what I will do without you in my life. I am completely lost without you. You left me way too soon. We had so many more memories to make together. I've always just expected you to be only one call away. No matter what. You and I have always made it through the good and the bad times-together. You've always understood me and loved me no matter what. You loved me unconditionally. You loved me through some pretty big mistakes. You loved me even though I had to step back and be a wife. You forgave me when I couldn't bear to forgive myself. You saved my life when I was trying to destroy it. You healed me. You always shot it to me straight and told me the truth, whether I liked it or not. That's what I appreciated the most about you. I loved how we could be content doing absolutely nothing. And no matter what we had a blast! We've had our disputes over the years but never let that completely destroy our friendship or the love we shared for one another.

It is so difficult for me to accept that your gone and that I will no longer be able to see you again. I will no longer be able to give you a hug. Or hear your wonderful laugh. I can't call you when I need to hear your voice. Never again will I be able to do any of the things I thought we'd still have time to do together. We've yet to have conquered the world! I know you are near to me in spirit and I will carry your memory with me everywhere I go. I miss you so deeply and my heart weeps as you go forth on your new journey. Even though you are gone, my dear friend, we will be together someday once again. We will remain friends forever and always...this I know in my heart. I love you shyshy.

“ Shyla was the most special and unique gift from God. He gave her to me when I felt hopeless. She kept me grounded in so many ways and helped me through some tough struggles in my life. She saved me from myself. She gave me more love than I have ever been worthy of receiving. She loved hard. She had an amazing heart and just wanted those around her to be happy. She held my heart in the palm of her hand and our souls will forever be intertwined. We shared such a unique friendship and love for another than most people wish to have. We've been each other's "go to" person for nearly 15years and I've just always known that no matter what, I could depend on her to be there for me. She loved art and music. She loved to sing karaoke and enjoy listening to others sing as well. She was kind to everyone. She was never judgmental and accepted people despite their differences or beliefs. She is truly an angel who has gained her wings. May you fly free my dear sweet shyshy and I will meet up with you again one day. Then we can fly away together like two birds of a feather. You will always be in my heart. I love you and miss you forever and always.

“ When things were down & pockets were empty her friendship was one of the richest things I valued....We'd talk for hours about just about anything whether it be about something we just found out or just any conversation at hand. Whether positive or negative the conversations were always productive....Shyla I'm sure taught many that life isn't about the money or what someone can do for somebody else. That you do things for a friend because you can and that a friend in need is a friend indeed whether they need help or not we are to care about the lasting memories we share with them...

We should always remember that none of us should be forgotten or feel alone...That we are part of everything and everyone without creed,age, religious belief or where we come from or what we choose to do that shouldn't be over looked....

Shyla is one Star in the sky I'll miss looking for....but as long as I live she'll live in all of us that remember her for who she is and that her heart was bigger than most I've met in my travels in this journey we call life....

I'll miss her terribly but one thing is this she'll want us to live our lives passionately because that is what life is about...

Goodbye my friend I'll miss you!

Sincerely,
